Over the past year, the structure of the healthcare system continued to evolve quickly. Springwell responded to a growing need for our services and forged new partnerships with healthcare providers. We also strengthened our core operations in preparation for strategic growth in order to meet increased needs within a changing landscape. Across the organization, we examined service implementation and standards, defined quality, and set benchmarks to measure performance. As we develop a plan to best meet needs in our communities in the coming years, we continue to be guided by our commitment to the health, independence and self-determination of those we serve.

In 2014, Springwell provided more service to more people...

...and maintained a strong financial base from which to grow
